Magnificent temples

Fabulous food - you can tell I have a sweet tooth!

Amazing
traditional dance
ceremonies

Magnificent view from the hotel
restaurant

The Balinese
artwork is world
class

We will visit a coffee/tea farm.

The magical rice terraces. We will visit one that is listed as a World Heritage Site.

We will have a private experience with spiritual healing and waterful cleansing.

Spiritual ceremonies happen continuously all over Bali!

Another temple that we will visit

Water Palace

Here is one of the coastlines that we will visit

Another water palace

It is required to wear a sari when visiting the temples. Your sari is included in the trip, and we will have fun shopping to pick one out.

The monkey forest and temples will be a highlight.

Here is a traditional village ceremony. If the timing is right, we will have the opportunity to attend one.

There will be many opportunities for lunch with incredible vistas of volcanos and rice fields.

We will visit a traditional village where they have kept the same traditions for decades.

In addition to a beautiful spiritual experience, you will find the most beautiful jewelry, woodwork, artwork and bamboo lanterns.
